Here are a few Tips, “Sage Stage Strategies” and Resources from the exclusive HowtoGetBookedOnStage.com program that are sure to help you.

Tip: Don't Guess...Make Sure You Know What The Promoter Wants

Different Promoters want different things. Some Promoters want you to sell, sell, sell. Others just want you to connect deeply with the audience so they never forget the time they spent at the event. Know what the Promoter wants before you say a word. Then over deliver.

Tip: Take Advantage of The New and The Traditional Stages and Platforms

There are many “stages” for you to appear on. Live Seminar Stages, Multi-speaker Stages, Teleseminars, Webinars, Cruise Ships, Blog Radio, Web TV, Corporate Events, Fundraisers, Private Membership Communities and more... Expand your reach and know the rules for each or risk being blackballed.

Sage Stage Strategy #26

“When on stage only recommend or sell products that 1) you believe in, 2) are relevant to your presentation and 3) are helpful to your audience.”

Sage Stage Strategy #42

“If you are one of many speakers appearing at an event, make sure you are aware of the content and connection the other speakers have with the audience. If the audience is particularly connected to another speaker consider, where appropriate, connecting yourself or your content to that speaker. Done correctly, it shows you were listening and ties together the whole event.”

Sage Stage Strategy #31

“Never speak just to hear yourself speak. The best speakers know the business of public speaking, their value and have a “Sage Stage Strategy” before they get on any stage.”
